

FSA: Study Abroad

Students participating in Alabama State University sponsored or approved programs may use their financial assistance to pay for Alabama State University tuition charges, study abroad program fees and living expenses while on exchange. Students who qualified for work-study cannot utilize that award during the semester abroad.

Students who wish to include the cost of airfare or other extraordinary expenses in the cost of attendance budget for loan application purposes may do so by scheduling an appointment with a financial aid officer.

Students on Alabama State University sponsored or approved study abroad program during the summer may use any unused Federal Direct Stafford loan eligibility, Federal Direct PLUS or private alternative loans.